

Champion in the News

How is Champion Fiberglass expanding production while the economy is constricting?

Ask Comerica.

After consecutive years of record growth, Champion Fiberglass faced a real challenge. The Spring, Texas based company was already running 24/7 just to keep up current production. Short of adding an eighth day in the week, adding another shift wasn't an option.

If Champion Fiberglass were going to maintain their leadership position, they would have to expand operations.

In the face of the tightest capital market in recent history, Champion turned to Comerica. In a short time, we put together the support and financing they needed to help the market leader double their manufacturing capacity.

At Comerica, we're proud to be the chosen bank of North America's fiberglass conduit leader. To us, they're all champions!
